

The image shows a web-based whiteboard application interface. The main workspace contains a diagram consisting of a circle on the left, a triangle on the right, and a hexagon above the triangle. A vertical line connects the bottom of the circle to the left side of the triangle. To the right of the workspace is a vertical panel titled "Current Members" which is currently empty. Below the workspace is a control panel with five buttons: "Join Whiteboard", "Synchronize", "Refresh", "Synchronize All", and "Disconnect". At the bottom of the interface is a message bar containing the text "Common messages, including your own id".
